SKELETON CAULK GUN

The OX 10-Ounce Skeleton Caulk Gun is built for professionals and DIYers who demand precision, efficiency, and durability. With a 10:1 thrust ratio, it delivers consistent force, making it easy to apply acrylic, latex, and silicone caulks with smooth, even beads. The skeleton frame design keeps this caulking gun lightweight while maintaining the strength needed for tough job site conditions. One of its standout features is the drip-to-non-drip switch, allowing seamless transition between continuous flow and controlled release to prevent excess caulk waste. The integrated spout cutter makes tube preparation effortless, while the seal punch quickly pierces the inner foil seal—eliminating the need for extra tools. Designed for comfort and ease of use, this caulk gun features an ergonomic trigger that reduces hand fatigue, even during extended sealing tasks. Its steel and aluminum construction ensures long-lasting durability, while the compact skeleton frame allows for better visibility and control in tight spaces.

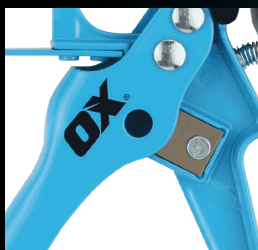

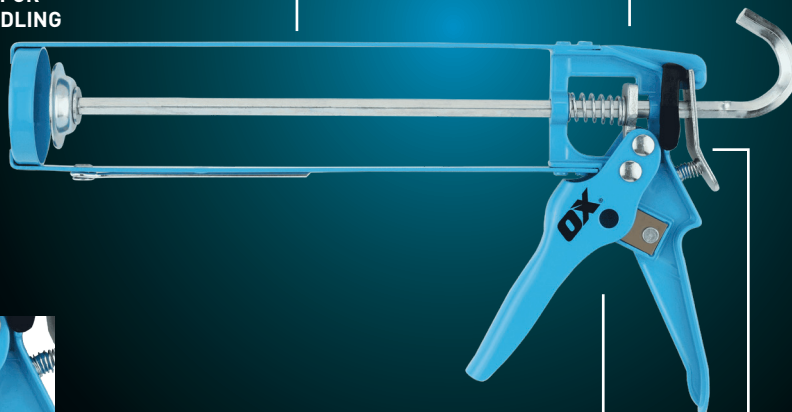

Whether sealing windows, doors, trim, or joints, the OX Skeleton Caulk Gun is your go-to tool for precision and reliability.

DUAL THRUST CAULK GUN

The OX 10-Ounce Heavy-Duty Caulk Gun with dual thrust ratios (25:1 / 12:1) is designed to provide versatility, precision, and power for all your sealing needs. The 25:1 thrust ratio is ideal for high-viscosity sealants and adhesives, offering optimal force for controlled, smooth application, while the 12:1 thrust ratio is perfect for lighter caulks, offering greater ease of use for less demanding materials. This allows you to switch between the two settings for different tasks without the need for multiple tools. Featuring a drip-free on/off switch, the caulk gun allows you to stop the flow of caulk instantly, reducing waste and keeping your work area clean. Whether you're sealing large surfaces or finishing up detailed jobs, the ability to control the flow of material ensures professional results with minimal mess. The built-in spout cutter makes opening new sealant tubes quick and easy, while the seal punch eliminates the need for additional tools to break the inner seal, helping you start your job quickly. Constructed from a robust combination of steel, aluminum, and PP, this caulk gun is built to withstand demanding job sites, ensuring durability and long-term reliability.
